SUNDAY MORNING

ANNUAL REPORT.

The first year of the second quarter Century of the history of the Home for Incurables has been uneventful as to external things, but full of interest to those who watch the daily record of its blessed ministry. What in earlier years were tentative and experimental methods, have now been reduced to a well ordered system based upon experience and wise counsels.

In looking over the work of the swiftly passing years, as each one comes round to its completion, we feel with ever-deepening gratitude the goodness of the Heavenly Father in prospering and protecting this Home for the sick and dependent.

Since the last Annual meeting death has entered the little circle of those who manage its affairs, and has removed to the higher life one who was largely instrumental in its founding, and who for twenty-five years gave to it her unstinted love and daily prayers—Mrs. Caroline K. Inglis. On the twenty-third of last September the Board of Managers met in special session to express their great sorrow and sense of loss. Always in extremely fragile health, her personal quality was peculiarly strong, and her power to influence others very great. Her faith was unfaltering, and she was permitted to see twenty-five years of wonderful work for incurables. Her friends and fellow-workers can truly say of her, Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for their works do follow them. One who was interested with Mrs. Inglis from the very first writes thus: "It did seem a gigantic undertaking, which had such a small beginning, just a little rented cottage in the outskirts of the City, and to-day the imposing structure with its broadened scope caring for men, women and children who are ill and helpless. If the prayers and testimony of those sheltered beneath its roof rise up before the Throne then certainly the blessing of the Father must rest on this work."

In an institution such as this, supported by voluntary contributions, the financial problem is the one that is the most difficult to meet. During the past year there have been times of discouragement and anxiety, times when it was almost impossible to get money for the daily needs, and a strenuous appeal is made for new subscribers and increased subscriptions. Many of those who have given generously in the past have been called to the reward of their good deeds, and it is most necessary that others shall take their places. Without aid from the State, and with a very small endowment fund, there is great need of additional income. An erroneous impression seems to prevail that the institution is rich. This is a great mistake, and may perhaps deter gifts, so it is important that the community should know that this good cause needs assistance. The expenses are very carefully looked after; the greatest economy is exercised, and the cost for the maintenance of each patient is very small. The Treasurer will give her own exact report and show just how the funds are managed. Legacies, gifts and subscriptions are all needed. Will you not remember this Home in your prayers and your alms?

The Home is always full, and many wait for the opening of its blessed portals. At present there are 148 patients in its various buildings: 45 men, 77 women, and 26 children—12 boys and 14 girls. Since the last report 209 applications have been received, 69 men, 113 women, and 27 children; 46 have been admitted, 16 men, 21 women, and 9 children. There have been 31 deaths, 10 men, 20 women and 1 child. Of these 20 were from cancer, 4 men and 16 women; 13 patients have been returned to their friends, 3 men, 5 women and 5 children.

As each application is made the name is recorded and the case acted on in turn. The Committee personally visit those who apply, and the Home physician sees them to determine their medical eligibility. Many times when the name is reached in the long waiting list it is found that death has claimed the sufferer, and an earthly home is no longer needed.

Another waiting list shows that a very important Department of the Home is the portion devoted exclusively to the use of boarding patients. A new wing to the Administration building was recently erected for this purpose. It does not in any way interfere with the accommodations for beneficiary patients, but provides a comfortable home for incurables who are not entirely without means, and yet who can not afford the comfort of a home, and the trained care of a hospital. The small board they are able to pay does not begin to cover the cost of caring for them, but as boarders they are saved the painful feeling of utter dependence. In every phase of this humane work the ideal always in view is to minister to the mind as well as the body, and the standard is set that charity shall be kind.

The work of the various Committees goes on in much the same way each year, being changed only as new and better methods present themselves. The Home is visited several times each week by two Managers who go into every part of each building, and keep a continual oversight of the work, and a friendly acquaintance with the patients. The Housekeeping Committee is at the Home at least one day of each week to examine the bills and direct the expenditures, and a constant effort is made, in which the Matron and Housekeeper give faithful service, to keep the expenses down, and yet to provide the food that sick and feeble appetites must have.

A large part of the work necessarily devolves upon the Nurses, as a majority of the patients are so helpless as to require constant attention. In the nature of things a complete course of trained nursing cannot be acquired here, but the efficient Head Nurse gives her Under-Nurses thorough instructions in methods and in practical application as far as the variety of cases will permit, and the resident Physician gives weekly lectures to the Nurses, so that they get good training, though it is not a diploma-giving course.

No buildings have been erected this year, but continual repairing is needed and much has to be done to keep the houses in order.

In this busy age the record of material things occupies a large space, but the spiritual side of the work done here is as important as the care of the poor sick bodies. Religious services are held each Sunday afternoon, in regular sequence by Ministers of the various churches, and by the Society of Friends, a mid-week service is held in the upper corridors, and it is wonderful to see the peace and comfort that the Christian hope brings into these sad and darkened lives.

In the Cancer Annex it always seems that the highest note is struck, of benefaction and blessing. Too much emphasis cannot be laid on the unique value of this special part of this divine work. The only place in the State where a home is provided for this most pitiful form of suffering, its quiet, scientifically planned rooms, its tender-hearted Matron and sympathetic Nurses, the love and gentleness and care that surround these who bear the greatest agony of human pain, and soothes them till death brings release, is beyond the power of any words to tell.

The Clothing Committee have to face the problem of wherewithal shall they be clothed, for this large household, and gifts of clothing of all kinds are earnestly solicited. In this connection grateful mention is made of the several Needlework Guilds who have kindly sent various donations of new clothing and bed linen. Partly worn clothing can be renovated, and is very useful, but new underwear especially is much appreciated.

The Children's House is the joy of the whole place. Incurable children seem the very saddest phase of human life, and yet the innocence of their loving childish hearts, and the brightness of child nature in the intervals of suffering make the children's corner a very happy one. These little invalids are blest in the wise and tender care they receive. They are taught by their good Housemother and Teacher all their health will permit of useful service and school lessons, and many happy hours are spent in their beautiful sunlit playhouse.

In their Sunday School they are taught the way of life from the lessons in God's word, and they are daily pointed to high ideals of truth and kindness. At Christmas with their beautiful tree and the gifts from many child-loving friends, it is a privilege and inspiration to see their happiness.

The Managers are always glad to testify to their loving appreciation of the work of the Auxiliaries. Not only do they assist in the work, but they are a vital and essential part of its very existence. The first Auxiliary, begun as a group of young girls, has developed into a body of thoughtful and earnest women. As it increases in numbers and financial ability its interest deepens and its usefulness broadens. They not only meet all the housekeeping bills in the Children's House, but they are now planning to give the Board further aid in the maintenance of the other Departments, and to the patients, old and young, they give the personal pleasure of contact with bright and happy lives.

The Second Auxiliary is the near neighbor and devoted friend of the Home, and not only shares in bearing the expense of the Children's House, but in many ways gives much of joy and gladness to the dear shut-in children. The spirit in which these two splendid bodies of young women give so unstintedly of love and service is an inspiration to those who are bearing the chief responsibility of the work, and a comfort in the thought that they are being trained to assume the larger burdens as time thins the older ranks.

Each year as the history of the twelve months is reviewed, the Managers feel, with ever-deepening gratitude, the debt they owe to all who have helped to carry it on. The contributors who generously share their means with their less fortunate brethren, the friends who visit the Home, the Ministers who come so cheerfully through heat and cold to bring them the Gospel of good tidings, the Solicitors who untangle the difficult problems, the Advisory Board, always ready for service, the Consulting and Visiting Physicians and Dentist, the daily newspapers for favors many times repeated, are all giving of their time and substance to sustain and support this necessary and good work, and the blessing of the Heavenly Father will surely be their reward.

And now, in closing, the last word must be a repeated appeal for continued and increased contributions. The work is constantly growing; expenses increase, and help is urgently entreated to enable the Board to care for these poor invalids who need a home in its best and truest sense.

A quarter century of service has demonstrated the value of this work, and the new period is entered upon with faith and courage. Not forgetting the things that are behind, we press forward to better and larger service to the Glory of God and the relief of helpless and suffering humanity.

ISABEL MCILHENNY NICHOLS,
Corresponding Secretary.

Report of the Visiting Physicians.

The staff is glad to report that during the past year there has been very little acute illness among the patients at the Home. In the Annex there is always much suffering, but this cannot be avoided.

The hygienic and sanitary conditions at the Home remain excellent.

The Annual Meeting of the Medical Staff was held on Tuesday, April 28th, at which the usual business was transacted.

The Staff desires to thank the Head Nurse for her valuable aid in the care of the patients, and the Board of Managers for their courtesy and co-operation.

RULES OF ADMISSION.

I.

Application for admission shall be made to any member of the Admission Committee.

II.

The cases of all incurable applicants shall be considered, except those suffering from mental derangement, contagious disease, feeble-mindedness, consumption or epilepsy.

III.

Applicants must have been either dismissed from a hospital as incurable or so pronounced by an attending physician; they must submit to the examination of the visiting and consulting physicians of the Home, and in all cases must be admitted on probation of not less than three months.

IV.

Patients shall be provided for gratuitously, their support becoming a charge upon the resources of the Home. An admission fee of $100 shall be required of such patients, except in extreme cases, where the terms shall be arranged by the Admission Committee, subject to the action of the Board of Managers. These patients will be expected to render such services in the Home as they are capable of doing under the direction of the Management.

V.

A limited number of boarding patients may be received, the charge per week varying according to the circumstances and condition of the applicant, which shall be duly considered by the Admission Committee, subject to the action of the Board of Managers. Board to be paid four weeks in advance, and in no case is any part of the amount so advanced to be refunded. Boarding patients absent from the Home for a period exceeding one week, shall pay one-half the specified rate of board during such absence.

VI.

Patients possessed of funds, when entering the Home will place such money or investments with the Treasurer. The interest of such sum shall be used for the benefit of the patient, and at death the principal shall revert to the Home.

VII.

All patients must be subject to the rules of the Home, and for the continued violation thereof shall be liable to dismission.

VIII.

The payment of $1,000 at one time entitles the donor to the use of a bed during the life of a patient; $3,000 gives the donor the use of a bed during his or her lifetime. Free beds in perpetuity may be endowed by the payment at one time of $5,000. Any free bed not thus occupied may be assigned to a patient by the action of the Board of Managers. Any inmate who has paid $1000 at one time and who does not pay board shall have the balance returned, if there be any, after a deduction at the rate of $5 a week for the time of residence in the Home.

IX.

If any inmate, by becoming curable, or for any other good reason, should at any time, in the opinion of the Medical Board and the Board of Managers, be deemed an unsuitable case for retention in the Home, such inmate shall be discharged.

Any such inmate who has paid the $100 admission fee, and who does not pay board, shall have the balance returned, if there be any, after a deduction at the rate of $3 per week for the time of residence in the Home.

The ADMISSION COMMITTEE meets at the Home every Tuesday, from 11 A. M. to 1 P. M., to receive applications and give any information that may be desired.

THE Twenty-sixth Annual Meeting of the contributors to The Philadelphia Home for Incurables was held on Tuesday, May 5, 1903, at 3.00 P.M., at the Home, when the Annual Report was read and a Board of Managers elected for the ensuing year.

TWENTY-SIXTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

ANNIE C. INGLIS MEMORIAL AUXILIARY.

Some one has said that "the nations without a history are the happiest nations." History usually means a record of war and blood-shed; but the recordless years mean peace.

We are just closing a quiet, uneventful year in the life of our Auxiliary, and there are few incidents of which to make the twelve months' record. While we are so constantly witnessing the bitter effects of disease, we are, also, continually gladdened by knowing of the alleviation and comfort which every sufferer finds who comes into the Home and enjoys the gentle and efficient care of our nurses and doctors. Especially is this the case in the Children's House; and our thanks are due to all who have charge of the little ones. The house-mother's patience and excellent management never fail, and the watchfulness of the children's teacher is unabating.

Seven new little sufferers have come to us this year; and our house-mother says it is wonderful to notice the change that creeps over these little people after being for a few weeks in our bright and sunny Home. They soon show a desire to help themselves as much as possible; and moral and physical improvement is constantly seen.

One child who came to us about two years ago, suffering from hip-disease, was a most helpless little invalid. Stretched on an "extension board" she has passed much of her life in bed, with heavy weights attached to her feet. Now she is so much better that to her great joy those tiresome weights have been removed.

We have one death to record among the children, which has been robbed of sadness because of the knowledge of "life and immortality" that were "brought to light through the gospel." This little girl, Jennie Iavitch, was rescued from extreme poverty by Mrs. Lewis J. Levick, and was most tenderly cared for by her benefactress. She placed the child, a victim of serious heart-trouble, in the care of the Home some years ago; but her kindness did not lessen after Jennie's admission. Through many illnesses, and especially during those last few weeks of the child's sufferings, this thoughtful friend never failed to devote time and gifts to the little sufferer; and our grateful thanks go forth to her for all that she has done.

Our thanks are, also, due to the kind friend at Darby who has so many times sent fruit to the children; to the "Wilson Memorial Guild," who have continued their generous gifts through another year; and to "The Unity Circle," who have done much for the children,—crowning their many kindnesses with a most joyous picnic to Swarthmore in the hot weather, where the tables on the lawn were loaded with good things. Our girls and boys have enjoyed again their always delightful day at the "Lindens"; and have revelled in the many gifts sent by their friend at Merion,—their "good fairy" as they call him.

For all other benefits received our grateful thanks are here expressed. Please remember, all kind friends, that we have these little cripples always with us, and in the words of the Master, "whensoever ye will ye may do them good."

Among the older patients our several committees have, as usual, done good work. The religious services have been taken charge of every fourth Sunday of the month, both in the Main Building and the Cancer Annex; and we heartily thank the clergymen and friends who come at our request bearing messages of peace and comfort to these many sufferers.

At Christmas time two trees were dressed, as usual, by our Auxiliary for the older patients; and the ever enjoyable Christmas service was followed by the distribution of kindly little gifts. For many years three sisters have helped to make these Christmas seasons happy by adding their liberal contribution of fruit to the other gifts. The table ladened with this luscious fruit is a sight to see, and is much talked of afterward by those who have enjoyed their portion of its bounty. Three other members of our Auxiliary, imitating this lovely custom, have taken charge of the new wing; and now on Christmas all of the patients there are generously remembered.

The work of our Entertainment Committee is two-fold. On the one hand, to give two or three public entertainments during the year whose aim and object shall be the raising of funds to help toward the maintenance of the children. And then, in the parlor of the Home itself to seek to brighten the monotonous lives of the older patients by simple amusements given every now and then. Humorous readings, musical treats, stereopticon lectures are always much appreciated pleasures. Two public entertainments have been given this past year: one, a lawn-party in June which netted us $262.00; and our "bazaar" in November, at which we cleared over $600.00.

Two of our members have been obliged to resign this year—Mrs. Godshall, who for many years has joined most actively in our services at the Home; and Miss Limerick, who at one time was the efficient secretary of the Auxiliary. We record these resignations with great regret.

Our Tuesday Meetings have been left until the last, that we might speak of them more particularly in connection with the founder of these King's Daughters' circles at the Home—Mrs. Caroline Keyser Inglis. She passed away from us quite suddenly last summer, but she has left a name which shall endure for years to come. As told fully in our report last year the very organization of our Auxiliary was due to Mrs. Inglis. In 1887 she started the King's Daughters' meetings among the patients at the Home. These meetings are held every Tuesday afternoon, and are usually conducted by some member of the Auxiliary. Sometimes, however, other friends of the Home have volunteered to help at these little gatherings; and our warm thanks are especially due to Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Bosson for the pleasure they have thus given to the members of the King's Daughters' circle.

Whenever able to do so Mrs. Inglis came to these meetings, and when she could she always took part in them. At the Memorial meeting held for her at the Home last fall one of the patients wrote a short, commemorative paper; and we cannot do better than to quote her touching words. In speaking of Mrs. Inglis's attendance at these Tuesday meetings she says:

"Oftentimes her voice was so weak she could scarcely be heard across the room; then what she said would be repeated so that all could know what it was. Many times the effort made to get here was enough, her strength would not be sufficient to enable her to speak. But whether she took part in the meetings or not her presence was always an inspiration to us all. I do not think we shall ever forget her last talk to us—how she tried to impress upon us the importance of being kind and patient, and bearing with each other, and helpful to those who wait upon us."

Mrs. Inglis has gone, and has left it to us, banded together in memory of her crippled daughter, to carry on this gracious work. To us has fallen the privilege of alleviating pain, cheering anxious hearts, comforting desponding spirits. Let us—

> "Do it so sweetly, so nobly, so well,
> That angels will hasten the tidings to tell."

A well-known scientist tells us that when travelling in the tropical regions he became one day much interested in watching the singular movements of a mother-bird. She was twitching off leaves from a plant near by, carrying them in her mouth and laying them carefully over her nest. Leaf after leaf she carried, until the nest was completely covered; and it was not until the bird had finished her work and flown to a higher branch that the traveller noticed other movements in the bushes near. Coiling up the trunk of the tree toward the nest was a horrible looking serpent, intent on devouring the young songsters. But as he reached the branch on which the nest was built, and made ready for his sudden dart, he caught the odor of the leaves that covered the little birds, and quickly retreated. They had been gathered from a plant particularly shunned by reptiles.

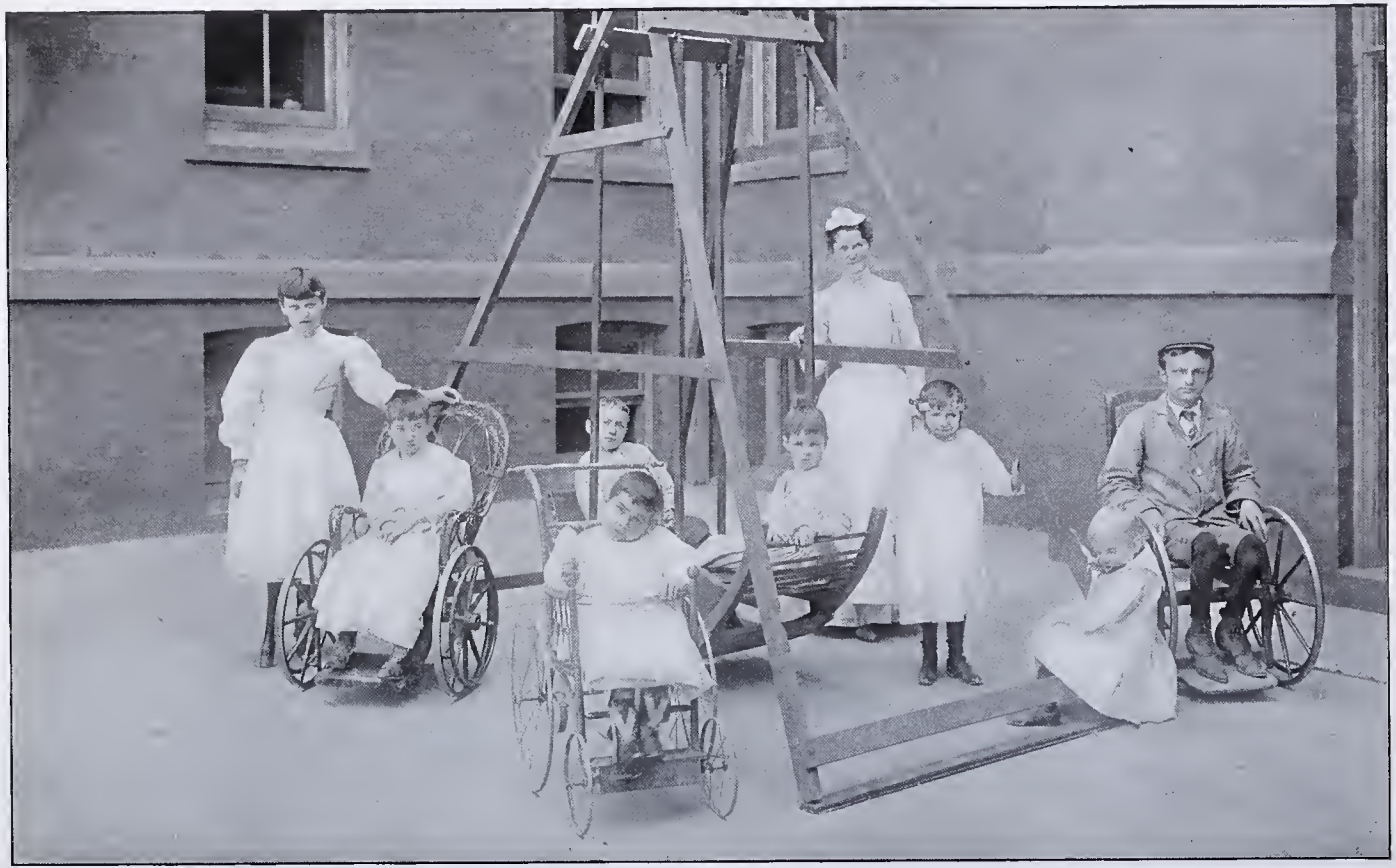
There is another enemy in this world of ours, part of whose venomous work it is to seek to destroy faith in the hearts of those who are helpless and afflicted. But when human love and tender care provide a shelter for the helpless, this enemy loses his power over them and retreats; and faith in the Higher Love grows and is not diminished.

On behalf of the Auxiliary.

Anna T. Whitney,
Corresponding Secretary.



A CORNER OF CHILDREN'S PLAYGROUND

In Memoriam.

As we come together again for our first fall meeting, we are grieved by the news of the death of Mrs. C. K. Inglis. For many years she was the loving president of this Auxiliary; and we desire to put on record our high esteem of her Christian character, and the realization of our loss in her death.

Although for several years past she has not been able to meet with us, being debarred from active service by ill health, yet her love and thought were always with the "Memorial Auxiliary," and we shall probably never know how much of our growth and success may be owing to her constant prayers for blessing.

Her Christian faith was the marked feature of her life; and her influence as the disciple of her Lord was felt by all who came in contact with her. One friend remarked after spending a few hours with her,—"I never come away from a talk with Mrs. Inglis without wishing I were a better woman."

Just a little over a month ago she was speaking of our twenty-fifth Anniversary held in May, and very feelingly expressed her pleasure at the growth of the little "Band" she had started, and her extreme delight that just recognition had been made of her daughter's connection with the work. "It seemed," she said, "like the crowning of all my wishes—there is nothing left for me to desire."

Like Simeon of old, she felt that "now" she could "depart in peace"; and she has departed "in peace."

Perhaps we could no more fittingly portray the life and death of this "servant of Christ" than in the words of that beautiful old hymn of Bishop Howe's:

"For all Thy saints who from their labors rest,
Who Thee by faith before the world confessed,
Thy name, oh Jesus, be forever blest.
Alleluia.

"Thou wast their Rock, their Fortress, and their Might;
Thou, Lord, their Captain in the well-fought fight;
Thou, in the darkness drear, their one true Light.
Alleluia.

"Oh blest communion, fellowship Divine,
We feebly struggle, they in glory shine;
Yet all are one in Thee, for all are Thine.
Alleluia."

TWENTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

SECOND AUXILIARY

OF THE

PHILADELPHIA HOME FOR INCURABLES.

Has some one forgotten the invalid child,
One of God's flock, with eyes so mild,
Who painfully treads life's weary way,
And patiently suffers day by day?
Our Savior speaks from his home above,
With gentle voice and words of love;
"Feed my sheep from your bountiful store,
For the Father has given enough and more."

During the past year the ever watchful Shepherd has guided tender hearts and willing hands to help us in our work, and to these generous friends who have remembered the little ones and whose practical aid has made it possible for us to clothe and educate our family of incurable children, we extend our sincere thanks. From the same friends who during the past year have helped us so efficiently, in this our Master's work, we ask continued aid, not only with material gifts, but having the needs of the Children's House ever in their hearts, they may join with us in supplication to the throne of grace for wisdom and strength to continue the work.

We have gathered together a family of twenty-four children, all of them suffering, each one disqualified by incurable disease from the earning of a livelihood. Miss Kelly, the House Mother, gives to every child her watchful care, while Miss Winchester, their teacher, with untiring patience instructs and interests them all. In this school room the mental condition, because of the physical ailments, of the individual pupil demands individual instruction. It is a graded school of many classes, sometimes but one child in a class.

The Sunday School work still claims the interest of our little incurables, who having graduated from infant hymns are singing what they call "real" hymns.

In November one of our children, Jennie Savage, entered into rest. Her gentle nature and amiable character had endeared her greatly to all who were brought in contact with her, and the children by whom she was much beloved have greatly missed her.

The Christmas season was a very joyful time in the Children's House. On the afternoon of Christmas Eve, after recitations and the singing of Christmas Carols by the little ones, they together with visitors and many of the Managers went from the Children's House to the Jeanes Memorial, their beautiful sunny play-room; those who could not walk were wheeled in chairs or taken over on cots; all were assembled to share together the Christmas joy and bounty that generous friends had provided. Two beautifully trimmed trees rejoiced their eyes which brightened and glowed with added delight, as the sight of a huge stocking filled to overflowing claimed their attention. This surprise was the work of the Twentieth Century Club, a circle of young girls who had shown in the fall previous, their interest in the children by holding a successful fair and giving the proceeds $166.00 in memory of their beloved friend and member, Eleanor Browning. Candy and toys were taken from the stocking while each incurable child was called by name and presented with a gift until the supply was exhausted. The personal thought and interest that came with the surprise was an added pleasure to everyone present. And to make this holy and happy season still more memorable was the efficient aid given by another club of young girls—The Knowledge Seekers—who came with a check for $118.00, the proceeds of a very successful fair which they had held for the benefit of the children. It was most touching to see the interest and sympathy shown for our little ones by all the happy children who out of their abundance both "temporal and spiritual," brought not only the material aid of money but that more priceless gift—the blessing of their presence. The sunny wholesome influence of happy, well children is of great benefit to our little incurables while the interest that these two clubs of young people have manifested in our work has been an inspiration and comfort to the members of the Second Auxiliary, who sharing with the First Auxiliary the responsibility of caring for these little incurables, have many anxious hours as to ways and means. We acknowledge most gratefully all that these two clubs have been to us in the past year.

The Lenten Sewing Class is again indebted to Mrs. Charles Este for her hospitality. This year the amount of sewing that was absolutely necessary was unusually large, and it would have been impossible to accomplish it but for the aid of the Dorcas Societies of the Northminister Church, St. John's Reformed Church, the First Unitarian Church, and the Church of the Saviour.

A picture of Pauline Artman, who was a member of the Second Auxiliary, has been placed in the sewing-room, which was furnished in her memory by her parents. This photograph gives great pleasure to the older children who remember the interest and affection Miss Artman had in the work.

During the past year we have worked very hard to increase the funds in our treasury in order that we might have a sum sufficient to build a porch which is greatly needed at the Children's House. A musical recently given at the residence of Mrs. Charles Este has netted us $130.00, and we hope that we may be justified in beginning the work at an early date. It is for us an expensive undertaking that can only be accomplished by the generous aid of the public together with an earnest effort on the part of the Second Auxiliary.

In conclusion we again thank all our friends and contributors; we solicit their continued help and ask for their sincere prayers to forward this worthy charity, the care of incurable children.

To ourselves we say :

"Work for the night is coming,
Work through the sunny noon,
Fill brightest hours with labor,
Rest comes sure and soon:
Give every flying minute
Something to keep in store;
Work for the night is coming,
When man's work is o'er."

Anne Levering Grubb,
Corresponding Secretary.
